

Utah Scientific Academy Bestows Honors On Two Members of BYU Faculty

Two Brigham Young University faculty members were honored at the annual spring meeting of the Utah Academy of Sciences, Arts and Letters held last Friday in Salt Lake City.

Dr. Bertrand F. Harrison, chairman of the BYU botany department, was elected president of the group for the coming year, and Dr. Gerrit de Jong, Jr., dean of the college of fine arts, was given the award for distinguished service in arts and letters.

The award presented to Dean de Jong is not an annual thing, and is given only when the Academy feels that there is an individual who merits it.

Another member of the faculty, Dr. Edward L. Hart, assistant professor of English, was elected chairman of the arts and letters section of the Academy.

Prof. Hart, Samuel C. Monson, and T. Earl Pardee, all from the BYU faculty, delivered papers in the arts and letters section of the meeting.

In the biological sciences division, faculty members participating were D. Elden Beck, Andrew H. Barum, Leonard Moore, and V. R. Allmon.

Henry Clay Gordon and Angus U. Blackham delivered special works in the physics, mathematics and chemistry divisions.

Madrigal's Concert Climaxes Tour Of North, Canada

Sunday evening at 8:30 p.m. in the Joseph Smith auditorium the Madrigal Singers will be heard in concert. This climaxes their seven-day tour to Canada, Montana, Idaho, and one stop in Utah, which ended last Sunday.

The group is under the direction of Dr. John R. Halliday, with Gaylen Harmon as president. Some of the numbers to be presented by the Singers will be "Hosanna, Hosanna," "Omnipotence," "Now is the Month of May," "I Wonder as I Wander," and "Let the Mountains Sing for Joy."

Included also on the program will be vocal solos by Florence Ipsen and Howard Ruff. J. J. Keeler will be featured at the organ as soloist.

The program will be under the direction of Mrs. Shirley Rile of the women's physical education department.

Housing and Prepared For Fall Legislators Approve Cabinet Plan

New Members To Serve As Advisors

Legislative council approved a plan to incorporate a cabinet into student government Monday night, as the council heard the final report by the committee investigating student government.

The cabinet will include the AMS and AWS presidents, IOC president, the intramural director, dance chairman, assembly chairman, director of off-campus affairs, pep activity chairman, and a director of campus publicity.

The cabinet members will serve in an advisory capacity to the executive council, but will sit as heads of their respective departments.

Appointive Powers

It was pointed out by Russ Mickelson, committee chairman, that all power to accept or reject the recommendations will rest with the executive council since the authority to form the cabinet is derived from the president's appointive powers. All cabinet members, except AMS, AWS and IOC presidents and the faculty-appointed intramural director will be appointed by the executive council, subject to approval by the legislative council.

Under the recommendation, cabinet members will organize their own departments and full directive powers will be placed in the cabinet posts. Executive council members will have direct responsibility for cabinet activities, however.

Direct Responsibility

According to the report AMS, AWS and IOC presidents will be directly under the studentbody president, while the first vice president will oversee activities of the assembly chairman and the off-campus relations director.

Bob Thorn Named Student Head Of Honor Council

Recent changes in the Honor Council have resulted in the selection of Robert Thorn, Springfield, as chairman.

The appointment by the legislative council of Harold Christensen, Provo; Margaret Clark, Novato, Calif.; and Colette Green, Lehigh, Kan., as class representatives completes the new replacements.

Mr. Thorn succeeds Weston Edwards who resigned his position to direct his attention next year as business manager.

Harold Christensen fills the senior class vacancy resulting from the resignation of Mr. Edwards. The other senior vacancy has been filled with the appointment of Margaret Clark, Gerry Appleton, first vice president elect, formerly held the position.

Colette Green replaces Lynette Macken as junior representative. Other members of the Honor Council are Elaine Hansen, Craig Carpenter, Kent Kerby, Charles Cox, and Laere Brown. Two freshman representatives will be appointed next fall quarter to complete council membership.

The revised version of the Student Honor Code has been approved by President Ernest L. Wilkinson and now awaits faculty action, according to an announcement this week.

Horiuchi Selected Valedictorian For '53 Graduation

Russell Nomachi Horiuchi, political science major, was selected to give the Valedictorian address at 1953 commencement exercises. It was announced Tuesday by Dean Wesley F. Lloyd.

Mr. Horiuchi, who is from Lehi, Hawaii, is graduating from BYU after only three years. He has completed a grade point average of 2.94 during that time.

BYU Mr. Horiuchi has been a member of the International Relations Club, Phi Sigma Alpha, and Phi Eta Sigma. Last fall he was president of the Rocky Mountain Conference of JRC held at BYU.

Following the war, Mr. Horiuchi served with Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in Japan. It was there that he met and married his wife, Aloki Mori. The couple are the parents of a four-year-old daughter.

Mr. Horiuchi, an active member of the LDS church, is an Eagle Scout, and is at present assistant Scoutmaster of the University Ward.

Play Tickets Available

Tickets are still available for the three remaining performances of "George Washington Slept Here," which runs through Saturday in the Smith auditorium. Curtain time is 8:15 each night, and tickets may be obtained at the Smith information booth in advance at the door.

Church Leader ...

Matthew Cowley Returns As Monday Forum Speaker

Elder Matthew Cowley, member of the Council of the Twelve, will address students and faculty members Monday, as speaker in the regular forum assembly.

The Monday address by Elder Cowley will mark his second appearance this year as principal speaker at one of the University assemblies. He earlier spoke during devotional exercise, Feb. 17. Elder Cowley, distinguished by continuous missionary activity for the Church in New Zealand and the Pacific, has been a member of the Twelve since 1945. An attorney by profession, he was admitted to the bar in 1926.

A member of the Board of Trustees of Brigham Young University, Elder Cowley was also recently elected national president of Delta Phi, national honor fraternity, succeeding Dr. John A. Witte.

Abodes Must Be Approved By University

"It is proposed that all students live in approved housing, as an entrance requirement to the University next year," it was announced Monday night in a special report by Dean William F. Edwards to the legislative council.

Dean Edwards appealed to student leaders to investigate the plan and to support it wholeheartedly, emphasizing that student support is necessary to the success of the plan.

In speaking of the importance of the plan, Dean Edwards pointed out that environment is an essential factor in a student's success, and that it is desirable that every student be furnished a favorable environment in which to pursue his school work.

Students who live in approved housing will be under no direct contract obligations, other than that they will be expected to have a security deposit and maintain certain standards. This deposit will be forfeited if the student leaves without good reason before the end of the school year.

However, any legitimate cause will entail the return of the deposit. It was pointed out by Dean Edwards that householders should encourage the maintenance of University and Church standards in the available housing, but that students will be free to come and go as they please.

The housing committee will meet this week and next with Provo householders to present the plan to them. It was hoped to be out during the report Monday night that the success of the plan depends on a sufficiency of available housing, plus the cooperation of students and householders.

New Zealanders Set Friday Assembly Go

Today's Union Oil "76" gasoline is superior to the 1936 variety, too.

Our free, competitive American system has stimulated great advances in petroleum research by offering an incentive for the introduction of new and better products.

So when your friends complain about the high cost of living, remind them that one hour's work today buys 80* more "76" gasoline—and better quality gasoline—at a Union Oil station than it did in 1936.

'I Was Communist' Set for Screening

The Film Classic presentation today is the thrilling and stirring story of intrigue and adventure taken from a real life adventure of Matt Cvetic, an FBI agent who posed as a Communist to gain valuable information for our country.

"I Was a Communist for the FBI" is based on this true adventure and stars Frank Lovejoy in the role of the Communist agent, Matt Cvetic, who posed and lived as a Communist for the FBI.

The motion picture starts at 4:15 in 285 P.S. building and runs continuously until the last showing at 8 p.m. This show promises to aid in revealing much about the Communist Party in the United States and the manner in which it operates.

Lee Sounds Socialism Danger In Address to Pi Sigma Alpha

Attempt of the government to spend itself into prosperity has put the American nation in a perilous position, declared Gov. J. Bracken Lee at the first annual lecture of Pi Sigma Alpha Monday.

Speaking to members and guests of the Beta Mu chapter of the fraternity, the governor stated that the only solution to the country's financial problem was to return to a concept of individual integrity and enterprise.

A special feature of the fraternity meeting was the presentation of honorary achievement awards to Dean Christen Jensen for his achievements as a historian and political scientist, and to Pres. J. Reuben Clark, Jr., as international statesman and church leader.

Track Prospects Good

by Loren Dunn — UNIVERSE Sports Editor

Since Coach Clarence Robison has taken over the position as head track mentor here at the UY track teams have shown marked improvement with every succeeding year.

The youngest member of the BYU coaching staff, "Robbie," a nickname that has stuck with him since his college days, was setting conference records at BYU just five and six years ago. His specialties were the one and two mile runs and some of his conference records are still holding.

On top of the admirable conference record he set while here at school, Coach Robison was also chosen as a member of the Olympic track team that represented the United States in Europe back in 1948.

This year's prospects looked good for Robison and the Cougar track men. In preseason, the Brighams looked strong when Fuenning and Bonham picked up national recognition for their strong showing in the 100-yard dash and high jump at a meet down on the Coast.

Robbie then took his team to Arizona State where they pulled one of the most surprising upsets of the year by handily beating the Sunbells.

First dual meet in Conference competition was with Montana—somehow or other we got beat. The "Grizzlies" showed more power than most observers thought they had. Second Conference dual meet was with Utah, and it looked as if we were going to win even without the services of Bob Bills, our second fastest sprinter who is always counted on for points. Things were going great until Fuenning pulled a muscle in the 220 and for the first time this year in a conference meet, he came in second. Utah edged us out by a couple of points.

Finally the luckless Brigham Young trackmen came through with their first conference victory Saturday, beating the AC by better than 20 points.

Fuenning recovered in time to take control of the 100 and 220 and Jarman picked up twin wins in the weights. Bob Bills was still out with an infected leg, but Dick Millet got us points in the hurdles. We also scored a win in the mile.

Call it what you may but we think the thing the Cougar tracksters lack most this year are a few good breaks. And if things would have gone a little better we feel sure the track team as a whole would be right up on top.

Moore-Maxim Title Bout Set for Ogden Stadium

Of interest to local fight fans is the probability that Joey Maxim and Archie Moore will stage a bout in Ogden on June 17 for the world's lightweight title. If it goes through, it will be the first championship bout Utah has ever had.

Moore is now champion of the light heavies. Maxim held the title for a long time and is expected to go all out in an effort to get it back.

The fight will go 15 rounds. A crowd of 30,000 and a gate of $250,000 is hoped for. The site of the struggle will be Ogden stadium.

According to Kenny Mayne, promoter of the event, the participants will arrive in Utah about three weeks before the fight. Maxim will train in Ogden, Moore in or near Salt Lake City.

Priesthood Set Tour To Church Center

Priesthood members and their dates are invited on a tour of LDS church highlights in Salt Lake City, to hear a talk by one of the church general authorities, and to hear an organ recital in the tabernacle, May 23.

The group will leave Provo by bus at 8 a.m. Saturday and will return in time for evening meals on campus.

Those interested in making the trip should contact their quorum advisers, who will be able to answer any further questions concerning details.

Woodworth Decisions Nelson in S. L. Bout

Chuck Woodworth, BYU junior who boozes professionally, Monday night registered a unanimous decision over highly touted Jack Nelson at the coliseum in Salt Lake City.

Although outweighed by 14 pounds, Woodworth carried the fight all the way. His aggressiveness and a constant series of left jabs won him the decision of both judges and the referee.

Nelson has had more experience than Woodworth and has boxed several times in Madison Square Garden.

Woodworth has been rising fast since he started boxing professionally last fall and was recently named prospect of the month in the light-heavyweight division by Ring magazine.

Branch Dance Set

There will be a dance in commemoration of the restoration of the Aaronic Priesthood at 9 p.m. Friday in the Provo State House for all Priesthood members and dates.

This dance will be held in conjunction with the regular quarterly ball. Dancing will be to Gus Shields and his orchestra.

Those planning to attend should pick up their dance programs from their quorum social chairman.

Division Track and Field Meet Finals To Be Held In BYU Stadium; Redskins Picked To Cop Laurels

The Brigham Young University trackmen will play host to three conference teams in the quadrangular meet which will be held in the Cougar stadium Saturday afternoon.

The four teams which will compete in the meet will be the University of Utah, Utah State Agricultural College, University of Montana and the Brigham Young University.

Field events start at 1:30 p.m. and track events will commence at 2 p.m.

Redskins Picked
The University of Utah is favored to win a close match may be in the offing. BYU ranks as a good second pick by most of the experts.

Many close races are expected, among them being the sprint events. Dale Newbold of Utah will give favored Dick Panning a run for his money in both the 100 and the 220. Brant of Montana U ranks as a dark horse, and Ron Prince of Utah may also surprise.

The mile and two mile runs find Montana's great Bill Rife top-heavy choice, but Wayne Lunn and Sherkel James, both on Clarence Robison's crew, will be near the front.

Boyd Jarman, the Y's capable two-spot ace, will be shooting for a double win. Top honors in the discus and the javelin as well as additional points in the shot are not beyond his reach. Hal Utson of Montana will be a slight favorite to top the Y star in the javelin. Utah's Dowd Jackson is a good discus checker.

Another Redskin Picked
Oscar Jackson, another student of the Salt Lake school, is a clay himself in the javelin vault while the broad jump is wide open. If Bob Bills of the Y is back in top shape by Saturday he has a fair chance to finish near the top.

High events will be close with Brigham Young's freshman ace, Dick Millet, being pushed by Lindsay from Montana in the high and brown from the AC in the low.

High jump event will feature another clash between Utah's Cal Clark and BYU's Ralph Bonham. Clark is rated over Bonham in this meet.

Scoring will be on a 5-2-1 basis. We've consistently taken the sprints, hurdles, and distance events. If we had the strength in the field events to match that of the track specialists—plus a few good breaks—we couldn't help but be right on top.

Cougars Attain Hoop Meet Bid

Brigham Young University has accepted a bid to play in the second annual Madison Square Garden tournament next Dec. 26-30, it was learned recently.

The tournament will be conducted for a two-loss elimination basis, with the opening game slated for the afternoon of Saturday, Dec. 26.

Among those teams already selected to provide opposition for the locals are such highly respected fives as Duquesne, St. Louis, LaSalle and St. John's. Manhattan, New York U and Niagara complete the eight-team field. Conspicuously absent is Utah State, last year's winner.

Cougar Baseballers Slate Final Game

Although no longer having a chance to win the loop championship, the Brigham Young University baseball squad will attempt to rebound from last weekend's disasters when they face the Utah Aggies in a pair of tilts this Friday. The site of the contests will be in Logan.

The Cougars were pasted by the Utah Redskins both Friday and Saturday to see their once enviable conference record come to rest at five wins and five losses.

Utah pasted the Utah Aggies twice Tuesday night to enshrine the division crown. The best the Y men can do is tie for second.

Big disappointment in last week's outings was usually reliable Ray Lish. Lish, one of the best pitchers in the conference over the last couple of seasons, gave up 15 hits, eight bases on balls and ten runs (eight earned) to the Utes Friday night. Despite this, the Y still would have won had not the Redskins scored two of their runs in the last of the ninth. Ute second sacker Monty Howard was especially hard on the Brig ace, blasting him for four hits, including a home run.

Expected to lead the Y hitting attack against the Logans are such stalwarts as Crawford, Bud Bagley, LaVon Satterfield, and Merrill Hardy. Hardy had three-for-three in last Friday's contest.

The Y infield will probably be composed of Foster at first base, Mick Eggerston at second, hoop star Tommy Karren at third, and Bagley at short. Hardy, Satterfield, and Morgan will form the outer defenses if Coach Dave Crowton sticks to his usual lineup.

Rodeo Team Leaves for Finals At Abilene National Roundup

Fresh from taking third place at Washington State last week, the BYU rodeo team left yesterday for the national finals at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, Tex.

Dick Smith, Rodeo Club president, received the invitation to the national meet Monday. Previously the team planned to enter a meet at Colorado A&M, but on receiving the invitation, it was decided to split the team and send members to both meets.

Those going to the national meet in Abilene will be Dick Smith, Luell Neilson, John Adams, and Grant Speed. Going to Colorado will be LaVell Kennison, Kay Stephenson, Don Jones, and Ken Carter.

At Washington State last week, the BYU team placed third behind Washington State and Idaho University.

Kay Stephenson of BYU took third in the calf roping. In the wild cow milking, a BYU team of Kay Stephenson and Don Jones took second place. Don Jones and John Adams of BYU took third and fourth in the Brahma ball riding.

Performance Rated Perfection

There is something glorious about perfection; and the night the Boston Symphony came to Provo there was a combination that totaled musical perfection. Any comment on that concert would consist of a long list of superlatives so, here goes:

In the first place, every section, every performer, armed with the finesse that only complete mastery of an instrument makes possible, the orchestra seemed to have gone beyond the point where technical skill is even the question. Add to this technical precision the tremendous warmth of the conductor, Pierre Monteux. He is a fascinating to watch and his results are wonderful to hear. Combine all of this with the beautiful acoustics of our J. S. auditorium and . . . how good can one concert be?

Exacting Treatment
Of the works presented, the least interesting but still beautiful was the familiar "Der Rosenkavalier" Suite of Strauss. The "Beethoven Second" is one of the lesser played Beethoven symphonies, but a very nice one. Tuesday night it was even colorful. We especially enjoyed hearing all of the "Firebird Suite" of Stravinsky instead of just the few measures that are used for background music for radio murder-mysteries. This work, too, received a more exciting than usual treatment at the hands of Monteux and Company.

Concert Favorite
An excellent choice for an encore was the brief, rousing (loud) "Fascist March" of Berlioz. This piece has always been a favorite of concert audiences. When it was first presented in Berlioz' own lifetime as part of his "Damnation of Faust," the audience encored the "March" four times.)

Far and away the most unusual, most exciting, and most enthusiastically performed was the very thrilling Creston "Symphony No. 2." There was not a person in the audience that was not swept away with this excellent piece of contemporary music.

"Dream Concert"
It was a dream of a concert; almost too good to be true. Cheers to all the people, especially by Dr. Clark, who made it possible. The standing ovation the orchestra and Mr. Monteux received came from an audience that realized that the Boston Symphony was one of the unforgettable events of a lifetime.

BYU Group Attends Press Convention

Ten Brigham Young University students left this morning for Pocatello, Ida., to attend the Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate Press Association convention. The confab will last until Saturday afternoon.

UNIVERSITY representatives included next year's editor and business manager Dave Forsyth and Dallas Burnett, as well as sports editor Loren Dunn and Ted Money, present business manager.

The Banyan will be represented by the new editor and two associate editors and the business manager. They are Mary Anne Carter, Lynn Thacker, Elva Christensen, and Bill Gallagher.

Church Leader Admonishes Faith in Gospel

Pres. J. Reuben Clark delivered a stirring address in yesterday's devotional on the subject "Jesus Christ our Head." "To me it is an absorbing subject," he said.

President Clark began by emphasizing that no one can rationalize God, Jesus, or other principles of the gospel. He repeatedly admonished both the students and faculty, "to cultivate a simple faith." He further counseled, "Don't be too concerned if by your reason you cannot understand all the teachings of God. If you undertake to rationalize you are likely to lose your faith."

Elaborating upon this theme, President Clark referred back to the great Council in Heaven. He reviewed the two opposing plans presented by Lucifer and Christ. He emphasized how the atonement was to save man from both physical and spiritual death, and the essentiality of free agency in this program. Then the veteran Church leader referred to the life of Christ and the miracles he and his disciples performed. "You can't rationalize miracles," he said, "you must take them on faith."

In conclusion, he quoted from the great testimonies of Peter and John. Then he encouraged all to cultivate such testimonies, for by them we receive "hope, courage, and determination."

Rainbow Gardens Open For Social Activities

Does the Smith ballroom seem crowded, or isn't there enough room in the Banquet Hall? Then take advantage of the newest University social facility—the Rainbow Gardens.

School officials announced this week that the Rainbow Gardens, open air dance pavilion near the fieldhouse, could now be scheduled for parties in the same way as any other facility on campus. Further information can be secured from the student coordinator's office.

New Cabinet

The dance director, publicity chairman, pep activity chairman and the intramural director will be under the direction of the second vice-president.

The committee, consisting of Russ Nicholson, chairman; Bob Ensign, Dick Miller, Dick Oveson, Oleen Smith and Lefloyd Porter, completed its work for this quarter with the Monday report.
